Holiday on-line safety message...

Online bullying is different from other forms of bullying as it is more likely to happen outside school, harmful material can be shared quickly and long after the first incident, and it is more difficult for children to defend themselves or get away.

How to keep safe...

- ♦ Find out the age restrictions for the sites and applications your child wants to use.
- ♦ Depending on the age of your child set up your own accounts and 'friend' your child. By doing this, you can understand how the site's privacy settings work, see what your child posts online and how your child responds to posts made by others.
- ♦ Make sure that your child's account settings are set to 'private' to control who sees their information.
- ♦ Know how to block unwanted users.
- ♦ Remind your child to think carefully before they post comments, or upload or send images online.
- ♦ Remind your child to tell a trusted adult if they are bullied online.

Always remember your audience may be bigger than you think...people will share your posts and photos with others. They no longer belong to you. Going viral can happen to anyone!

Pre-loved school uniforms

If you have school uniform items that your child has outgrown, can you please donate them to the school? We often have families who very much appreciate your kindness.

NAPLAN Online On Thursday I was able to experience the NAPLAN readiness test and it was so much better than pen and paper. You read the prompts and plan your writing as usual and it is much more fun. I think doing NAPLAN online is better. By Hayley Hambrook
